

Indian River County, Florida Selects Geographic Technologies Group (GTG) to Implement GIS Software Solutions

Goldsboro, NC – Geographic Technologies Group, Inc. (GTG) announced today that Indian River County, Florida has procured software and services from GTG. The County procured GTG's GeoBlade Intranet and Geomanager software solutions.

GeoBlade Intranet is the latest in enterprise GIS tools from GTG. The application enables the entire enterprise to access GIS and IT investments. Unique backend tools synchronize GIS data with existing data from other databases.

Curtis Hinton, CEO and Co-owner of GTG, stated that, "Indian River County has made a major commitment to GIS. They have just completed a very comprehensive implementation plan that details the optimal steps for implementing GIS over a three year period. One of the keys to the County's success is making sure that all stakeholders can see the progress being made and get a quick return-on-investment. GeoBlade Intranet accomplishes both of these goals. Staff throughout the County will see the progress being made on a daily basis while using the data to make the daily decisions that their jobs require."
